Guidelines

Architectural Committee Guidelines - The Association has been charged with the responsibility of maintaining the aesthetic and architectural character of Highland View.

Any owner desiring to make ANY exterior change, improvement or addition (including any change in color) must obtain approval for the change. All applications will be considered on an individual basis, and all reasons presented for the improvements will be weighed and evaluated, based on the following considerations:

1. The harmony of external design and location in relation to surrounding homes in the community.
2. The recognition of future maintenance problems or expenditures the installation might cause the Association.
3. Adherence to the guidelines established in the Declaration of Covenants, Conditions, and Restrictions dated May 9, 1989.

PROCEDURE FOR OBTAINING WRITTEN APPROVAL

Step 4: Once the application is complete, the Property Management Company will send it to the members of the Architectural Committee.

Step 5: The Architectural Committee will review the application. After the initial review, the homeowner will be notified by a member of the Architectural Committee if there are any questions or concerns regarding the proposal. An application may downloaded from the Highland View Web site or requested from a member of the Architectural Committee.

Step 6: After reviewing the application, the Architectural Committee will either ACCEPT the application as submitted, ask for REVISIONS that adhere to the architectural guidelines, or DECLINE the application. An electronic response from the Architectural Committee will be sent to the Property Management Company who will then notify the homeowner both by email and by postal service of the decision.

Step 7: The homeowner should expect an ACCEPT, REVISE or DECLINE decision within 30 days of a completed application.

Step 8: Decisions shall be based upon the following criteria:

The Architectural Committee may make suggestions for modifying the application to make it acceptable. The Property Management Company will notify the applicant of the decision, the reasons for the decision and any suggestions for modification of the plan made by the Architectural Committee. The applicant may appeal this decision in writing to the Property Management Company within 30 days of receipt of the decision. After review of the appeal, the Architectural Committee will vote on the application and the original decision can be reversed with a majority vote of the Architectural Committee.

Step 9: APPROVALS are valid for 6 months from the date the applicant receives the official notification. That is, work must begin within the 6 months of the acceptance date or a new application must be submitted.

Step 10: If the applicant desires to modify the plans or specifications for architectural changes during construction, a revised application must be submitted to the Property Management Company. The Architectural Committee will review the revised application and reply through the Property Management Company. Every effort will be made to render a decision on the revision in a timely fashion, but the work on the revised part of the plan must not begin before a decision is rendered.

Any change or improvement made by an owner is the responsibility of the owner for maintenance, repair and/or replacement.

Unauthorized changes or improvements must be removed or restored to original conditions at the discretion of the Board of Directors and will be at the expense of the owners. Failure to do so may result in the Association placing a lien against the property involved.

Remediation process for Highland View Homeowners Association

Owning a home in a community association offers many advantages to you the homeowner, but at the same time, sometimes imposes some restrictions. These restrictions are not meant as an inconvenience or an infringement of your rights as a homeowner, but rather are designed to maintain a pleasant overall appearance of the Highland View community. The Homeowner Association Covenants and Architectural guidelines describe how we collectively are to maintain and use our property.

When a variation from either the covenants or architectural guidelines is observed or brought to the attention of the architectural committee, the Board of Directors or the engaged property management company, the following process will be followed:

1. The identified situation will be communicated to the architectural committee, who will confirm whether or not the situation is out of compliance with the intent of the governing documents. If the situation is determined to be out of compliance, the architectural committee will notify the Board and the management company. The Board reserves the right to suspend these actions at any time during this process.

Once a home/property is determined to be in non-compliance:

2. The property management company will make a personal call to the homeowner, informing them of the observed situation. During the call, the homeowner will be asked how long they believe it will take to remedy the situation.
  - a. Every effort should be made during this call to determine if there are extenuating circumstances that are preventing the homeowner from keeping the property in compliance. These circumstances will be shared with the Board for consideration before further action is taken.
  - b. Depending on the circumstances and potential cost of the remedy, the length of time to complete the work may vary. It is expected that in most cases, the remedy would be completed within 30 days.
3. If the remedy is not completed in the agreed upon timeframe, the management company will send a follow up letter to the homeowner, giving an additional 14 days to comply.
4. If the remedy is not completed within the 14 days, the management company will send a certified letter demanding that the situation be remedied, as previously agreed, in 7 days or legal action may be initiated. The homeowner will be informed that the association will seek to recoup all legal expenses from the homeowner involved.
5. Legal action is initiated by the Board of Directors on behalf of the homeowners association.
